Alma Mater

Oh here's to thee Old P. H. S.,
The school we hold most dear
We pledge to thee our loyalty,
And thy name we all revere.

Though we may roam in after years,
Our love will never die
And we will ne'er forget thee
Or the friends of Plymouth High.

Dedication

Dedication

We of the Mayflower chose to dedicate the yearbook to two of the best liked and most respected teachers at Plymouth High School.

Mrs. Smith has taught commercial studies at Plymouth for three years.

Mr. Frank Garber has also taught at Plymouth for three years. He teaches industrial arts and mechanical drawing.

We hope to see them around Plymouth High School for years to come.

Senior Class

Twenty-nine seniors will graduate from Plymouth High School this year. We are the 25th class to graduate from the new high school and one of the largest.

We were represented by Marty Hampton, John Feters, Bud Berberick, Tom Marvin, Floyd Whit, Jerry Lillo on the football team. Rose Fenner and Lenore Briggs. At homecoming time, Carol Evans was queen and Orena Ousley represented our class as attendant. The rest of our class was in the band or working in the concession stand.

During basketball season Bud Berberick and Ted Ross played. Bette Carter and Rose Fenner were cheerleaders.

We have had our dance, a Carnival and many other projects to earn money for our long awaited trip to Washington.

So this May 24, 1956, we will reach the end of high school.

Last Will and Testament

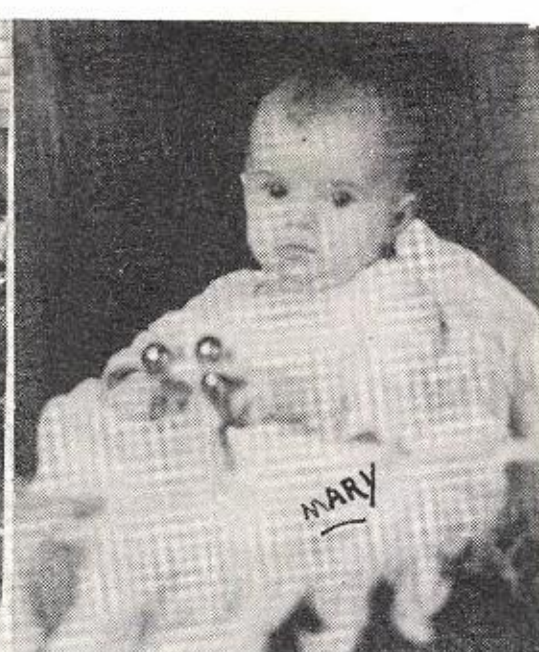

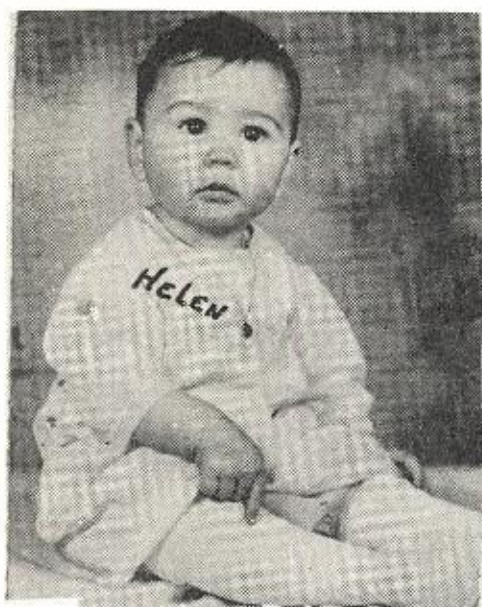

We, the class of '56, being of sound mind and good character do bequeath and will this last day of May 22, 1956.

- FIRST: To the coming seniors, we leave our rats and the coke bottles in the concession stand.
SECOND: To the coming juniors, we leave an accumulation of book reports, textbooks, themes, sports records, and music awards.
THIRD: To the coming sophomores, we leave any of the good grades we might have gotten.
FOURTH: To the coming freshmen, we leave a quiet home room.
FIFTH: To the junior high, we leave all the privileges we have had.
SIXTH: To the faculty, we leave our desire to get out of tests, speeches, reports, and school.
SEVENTH: To the Board of Education, we leave our unpaid bills.

- Joe Alexander, do bequeath my hours of sleep in study hall to anyone who needs them.
Gene Baker, do bequeath my ability to get along with the teachers to Doug McQuate.
Bud Berberick, do bequeath my big nose and little ears to whomever wants to get a good laugh.
Lenore Briggs, do bequeath my height to Mr. Nowakowski.
Mary Brinson, do bequeath my position as president of F.H.A. to Marcia McGregor.
Bette Carter, do bequeath my brother, Danny, to anyone who is looking for trouble.
Helen Conklin, do bequeath my quietness to Daher Huzovich.
Wilma Cornett, do bequeath my modesty to Daher Huzovich.
Carol Evans, do bequeath my pleasing disposition to Roberta Bachrach.
Rose Fenner, do bequeath my cheerleading position to M. J. Coon so that we may have more "pep" sessions.
John Feters, do bequeath my interest in electronics to my brother, Tom.
Don Grabach, do bequeath my "drag" with the teachers to the biggest "brown nosers".
Gerald Lillo, do bequeath an open wide door to wisdom and success to all my underclassmen.
Marty Hampton, do bequeath my ability to be tardy to Joan Postema.
Tom Marvin, do bequeath my ability to sleep in P.O.D. to Doug McQuate, if he can be quiet.
Jack McQuate, do bequeath the remains of my long hair to Doug, my brother, who surely needs it.
Don McKinney, do bequeath my careful driving to Jim Jacobs; he needs it.
Floyd Noble, do bequeath my quietness to Vincent Garber.
Eleanor Ousley, do bequeath my quietness to the eighth grade.
Orena Ousley, do bequeath my basketball ability to Pat Markley.
Erwin Renz, do bequeath my '47 Chevy truck to anyone with a motor for it.
Gordon Riggle, do bequeath to Gene Laser my bass drum stick.
Mary Robertson, do bequeath my ability to "see through" people to Mr. Petit.
Ted Ross, do bequeath my "self confidence" to Thomas Feters. Here is hope!
Bob Stroup, do bequeath my ability to jump to Mike DeWitt.
Evelyn Trauger, do bequeath my position as class cut-up to Carol Schneider.
Sandra Vogel, do bequeath my ability to get work done to the junior class boys.
Floyd White, do bequeath my watch to my brother, Jim, my $1.05 to Mother, and several odds and ends of clothing to Dad.

When We Were Young

Senior Class History

In 1944, the class of 1956 started its long journey. It is twelve years later now and only 13 of the original members are still with us. Bud Berberick, John Feters, Mary Brinson, Bette Carter, Don Grabach, Marty Hampton, Rose Fenner, Wilma Cornett, Jack McQuate, Floyd Noble, Gordon Riggle, Mary Robertson, and Sandra Vogel were all there when Mrs. Fackler taught us our ABC's.

Mrs. MacFadden, our second grade teacher, taught us to add and subtract. These first two years we spent in the upstairs of the high school building in fear of the "high school". Lenore Briggs joined us late that year.

Our third grade was rather confusing. We had Mrs. Hoffman as our teacher until she broke her hip. And then it was Mrs. Port and finally Mrs. Weller. We put on the "Wedding of Jack and Jill". Evelyn Trauger joined us then.

Mrs. Farrar taught us to multiply in the fourth grade. That was the year Jerry Lillo joined us.

We presented the traditional "Proud Princess" under the direction of Mrs. Ervin, our teacher in the fifth grade. This year Peggy Burrer and Robert Stroup joined us.

The biggest thrill of the sixth grade was the new elementary building where Mrs. Davis was our teacher. Carol Evans joined us then.

The next year we were very bewildered with lockers and changing classes, but Mr. Frail patiently helped us out. Ted Ross, Don McKinny, Tom Marvin and Gene Baker all joined us that year.

Our eighth grade homeroom teacher was Mrs. Klassen. We were joined by Orena Ousley and Erwin Renz that year.

At long last we were in high school. We had our first class dance, the "Spring Swing". There was football, chorus, homecoming, cheerleading, and basketball; all kept us busy. Mr. Kreutzfeld was our homeroom advisor. Eleanor Ousley joined us in 1953.

As sophomores there was plenty to keep us busy. Mrs. Smith helped us with all our work that year. We had three new class members: Joe Alexander, Helen Conklin and Floyd White. Our dance was the "Sadie Hawkin's Day Dance".

Our junior year we had our play "Rest Assured", a Saint Patrick's Day Dance, and most important the Junior-Senior Banquet with its theme "Showboat". Mr. Bixel was our sponsor.

Mr. Whitaker has helped us through this last year with all its plans for the trip to Washington D.C. and for Commencement.

In May there will be 29 of us receiving our diplomas, the symbol of much work and many wonderful times. It will be the end of a long journey and the beginning of something new.

Mary Margaret Brinson

Senior Class Prophecy

Gee--here it is 1976, and I'm still struggling through the halls at PHS--maybe they'll let me out this year.

I keep hearing about all the successful grads from my original class--the class of '56.

Like Bud Beberick--what red-blooded American boy could ask more than being the head coach at Vassar?

Remember "Pastor Porky"? Well--he worked his way up--from busboy to head bartender at the Ork Club which is managed by Don McKinney.

Lucky Carol Evans! She's the pretty wife of the Postmaster General of the United States! He was appointed by another successful member of the class of '56--President Jack McQuate, who, incidentally, was elected on the Prohibitionist ticket.

And look at Gordon Riggle--Ohio's leading horticulturist! He is happily rebuilding a thirty room house in the style and architecture of the turn of the century.

And Don Grabach and Marty--nobody has heard from them since they left to explore the upper Amazon in 1960. Don was geoligizing and Mart Hampton was engineering.

Remember Mary Brinson? She is now Col. Brinson--head of the Social Studies--at West Point. Bette Carter, her best friend, is the track coach there. Their husbands are both away in Europe on business trips.

Sandra Vogel always wanted to do something no one else had done. Well, she reached her goal. She invented the first keyless typewriter.

Always knew that Renz boy would amount to something! Bet Wilma is sure proud of her husband. Erwin became the first person to crack the sonic barrier--going backwards!

There's that Mary Robertson, climbing up a TV antenna after that confirmed bachelor TV repairman, John Feters. Poor girl--she was so certain.

And just look at Gene Baker and Bob Stroup! Gene's the president of Kennabaker-Packard, but he's competing with Bob Stroup, the president of General Motors.

And Floyd Noble. He's got the Vassar of super markets--"Noble's Reverie", it's called.

Rosie Fenner found a happy homelife with the boy of her choice, as did Orena and Eleanor Ousley. Helen Conklin is the leading home economics expert in the United States and has become very rich, endorsing dish rags, brooms, etc.

You all have probably heard of Commodore Margaret Burrer of the Coast Guard? Yes, that's our Peggy.

And who is so "square" as not to have heard of Joie Alexander and his "Smilin' Cats"? Joe Alexander finally made it!

Jerry Lillo is hard at work making the most of every opportunity. Right now he's hard at work directing the construction of the Paddock Block on the Public Square, which is supposed to top the Empire State Building in height.

And you have all seen that fabulous woman--"Limpid Lenore"--on the silver screen? That's right! None other than our own Lenore Briggs!

And then there's Tom Marvin. He's still asleep in the front row in the auditorium from Commencement.

Floyd White, after taking apart a Caterpillar tractor, became so enthused that he rushed right out and bought the company. Evelyn Trauger is his private secretary.

What's that, Mr. Coon? My diploma? Oh--thank you!!! Yes, I'll finish mopping the corridor. Oh, thank you!!!

Juniors

Pat Markley, Frank Eckstein, Jim Hunt, Joanne Briggs.

Junior Officers

The junior class started the year by electing Frank Eckstein as class president, Jim Hunt as vice-president, Pat Markley, secretary, and Joanne Briggs, treasurer.

Daher Huzovich was foot cheerleader and Jodn Postema and Ellen McKown were basketball cheerleaders.

Joan Postema represented the class as 'queen's attendant.

To make money the class sold concessions at the home basketball games. They also sold household goods, stationery and vanilla.

After the junior class play, they all had a party.

Senior Class Play

Mr. Gilbreth is a well known efficiency expert, but unfortunately, he is constantly attempting to carry factory methods into his family life. This is probably well founded because Mr. Gilbreth has twelve children.

Mrs. Gilbreth is the moderating factor in this family, as she tries to mediate between the sides.

Unknown to the family, Mr. Gilbreth, no longer a young man and troubled by his heart is trying to train and educate his family for its future life, as well as prepare them for his possible death.

How Mr. Gilbreth goes about this provides the plot which is one continuous laugh.

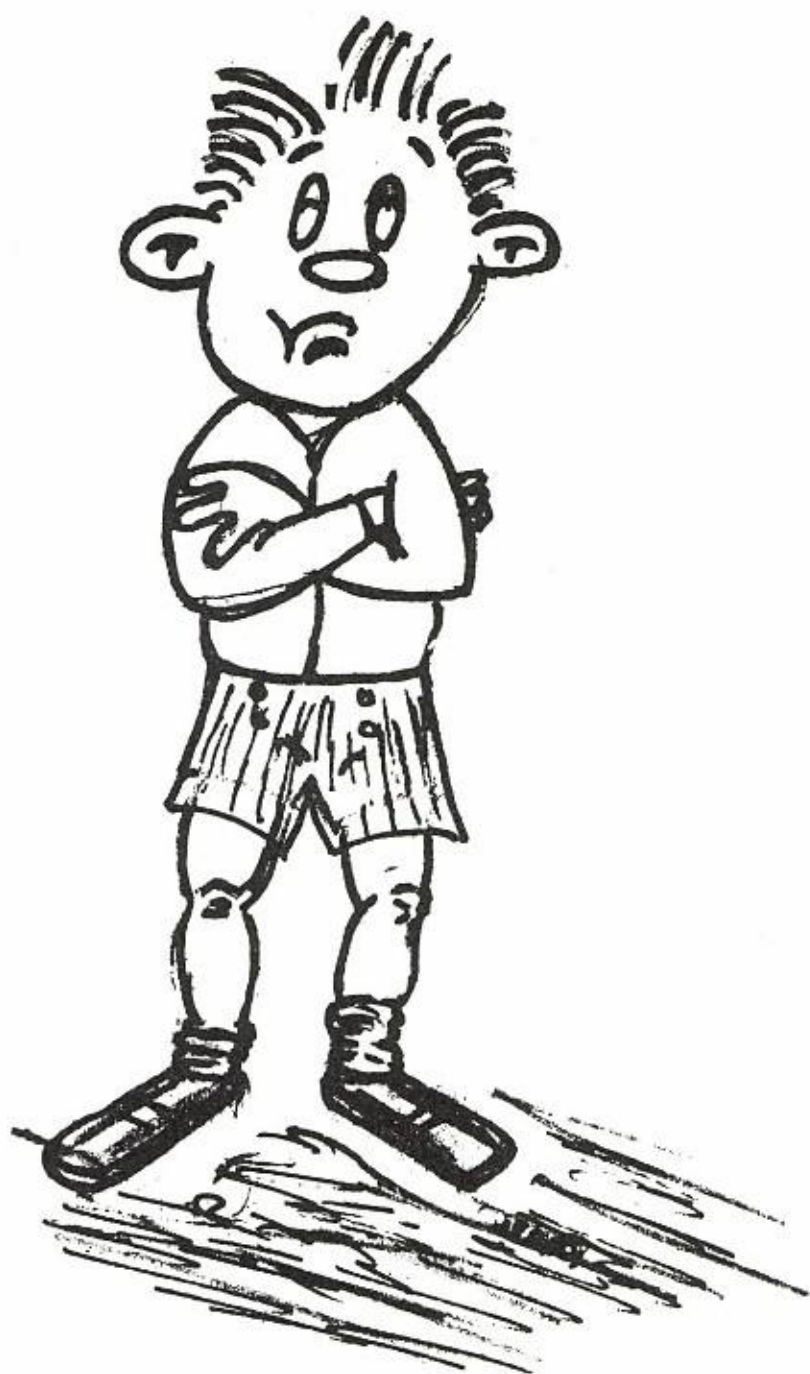

The excellent play, complimented by a hard-working cast, was presented before a capacity crowd on April 6, 1956.

Junior Class Play

When Pamela Jones was elected student council president, never in her wildest dreams did she foresee having to make the thousand and one decisions required of a school principal. Should she abolish home work, as one friend helpfully suggests? Should she stand behind an unpopular teacher? Should she keep the school's star athlete out of the state basketball tournament for disciplinary reasons? These are only a few of the headaches that confront Pam and her boy friend, "Buzz" Bailey, who unexpectedly finds himself doubling as vice-principal and "home ec" teacher, with an omelette in one hand and a dress pattern in the other.

Romance kicks up its lovely heels, too, in this merry turnabout. Who would have guessed that elderly Miss Goodin "carried a torch" for the confirmed faculty bachelor, Mr. Harper? Who would ever have imagined that "Tick" Tok, the diminutive janitor, would eventually dominate Mrs. Ratchet, the demon scrub lady who--everybody suspected--rode home each night on her broomstick? Or that somebody would accidentally lock a Limburger cheese sandwich in the trunkful of costumes for "Rusty Wings", the school play? All of these things, and more, keep Acting-Principal Pamela Jones in a whirl! One complication swiftly leads to another! Before long, the entire school seems upside down, and everybody--but everybody--is "down" on her. She has to fill in for the lead in the school play at the last minute!

Then somehow, with the return of Mr. Lundquist, the real principal, situations manage to right themselves; and Pam and "Buzz" and the rest of the school return to normal. Well.....more or less!

Activities

Music

September of 1955, the Plymouth High School music department went to work under the baton of a new and very capable director, Mr. Donald Bowersox.

BAND

Instrumental music got off to a roaring start, with the marching band facing a grueling season of a regular succession of home football games, each requiring new band shows. Who will ever forget "Across the Field", "U. of M. Rouser", or "The Victors"?

Of course, the highlight of the season was the Homecoming, when a member of the Marching Band was crowned queen--Miss Carol Evans.

The band received another honor the same night when WATG of Ashland broadcasted the Homecoming Game and half-time show.

Following football season, the Marching Band disbanded in favor of the Concert Band, which immediately began work on its Pop Concert, a new innovation in the band season.

After the Pop Concert, work centered around preparation for both the District Concert and the Mid-Winter Concert. The latter concert was doubly important, because it was to be presented twice--once in the PHS auditorium, and once at Shiloh, in the first exchange concert between the two schools.

The Winter Concert aside, the band concentrated on contest work and plans for a Spring Concert, which would consist of heavier music.

Following the final performance in Concert Season, the Marching Band again formed, beginning work for the band's last 1955-56 school year appearance--the Memorial Day parade--but this time something was missing--the class of 1956 had gone.

The year 1955-1956 saw a great change in the band's government. It drew up and adopted a constitution, the first the band had. Also, a Pep Band was formed, to officiate at away football games that the Marching Band could not attend. The Pep Band continued into basketball season, but was eventually disbanded, due to schedule conflicts.

CHORAL MUSIC

Choral music got started with a slow thud at PHS this year, because it was impossible for the Mixed Chorus to assemble until after football season. Immediately after organization, work began on the annual Christmas Concert, this year to be entirely vocal.

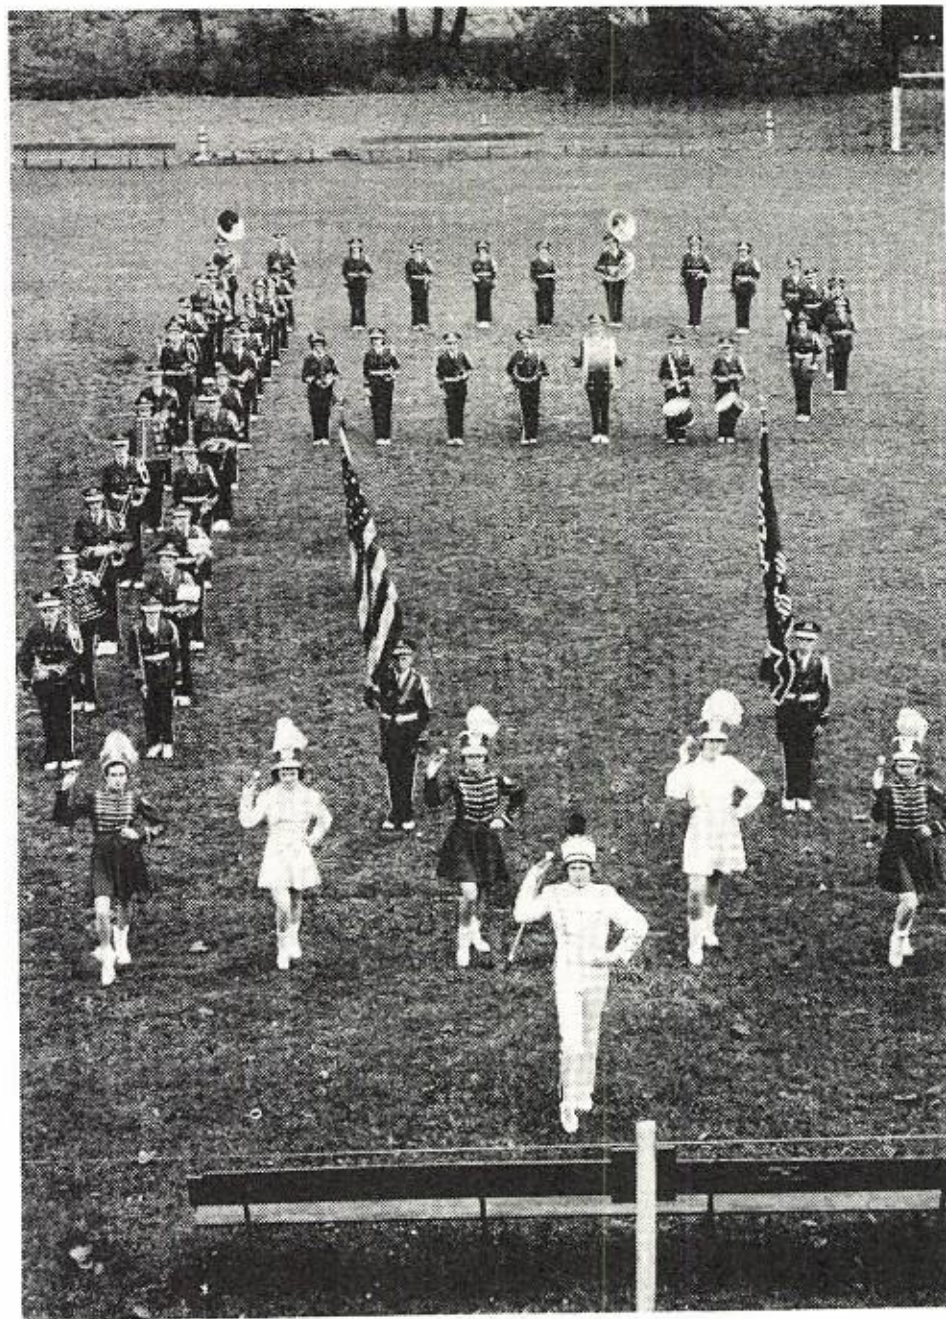

A cantata, "Child Jesus", was selected as the work to be performed.

After the Christmas Concert, work began on the choral intermission for the Mid-Winter Concert.

The chorus began work for the District Contest, but since it was impossible for the group to get enough rehearsal time scheduled, they had to forego going to the contest.

So, the group began working diligently for its last three appearances--a Patriotic Concert, Baccalaureate, and Commencement.

Jr-Sr Prom

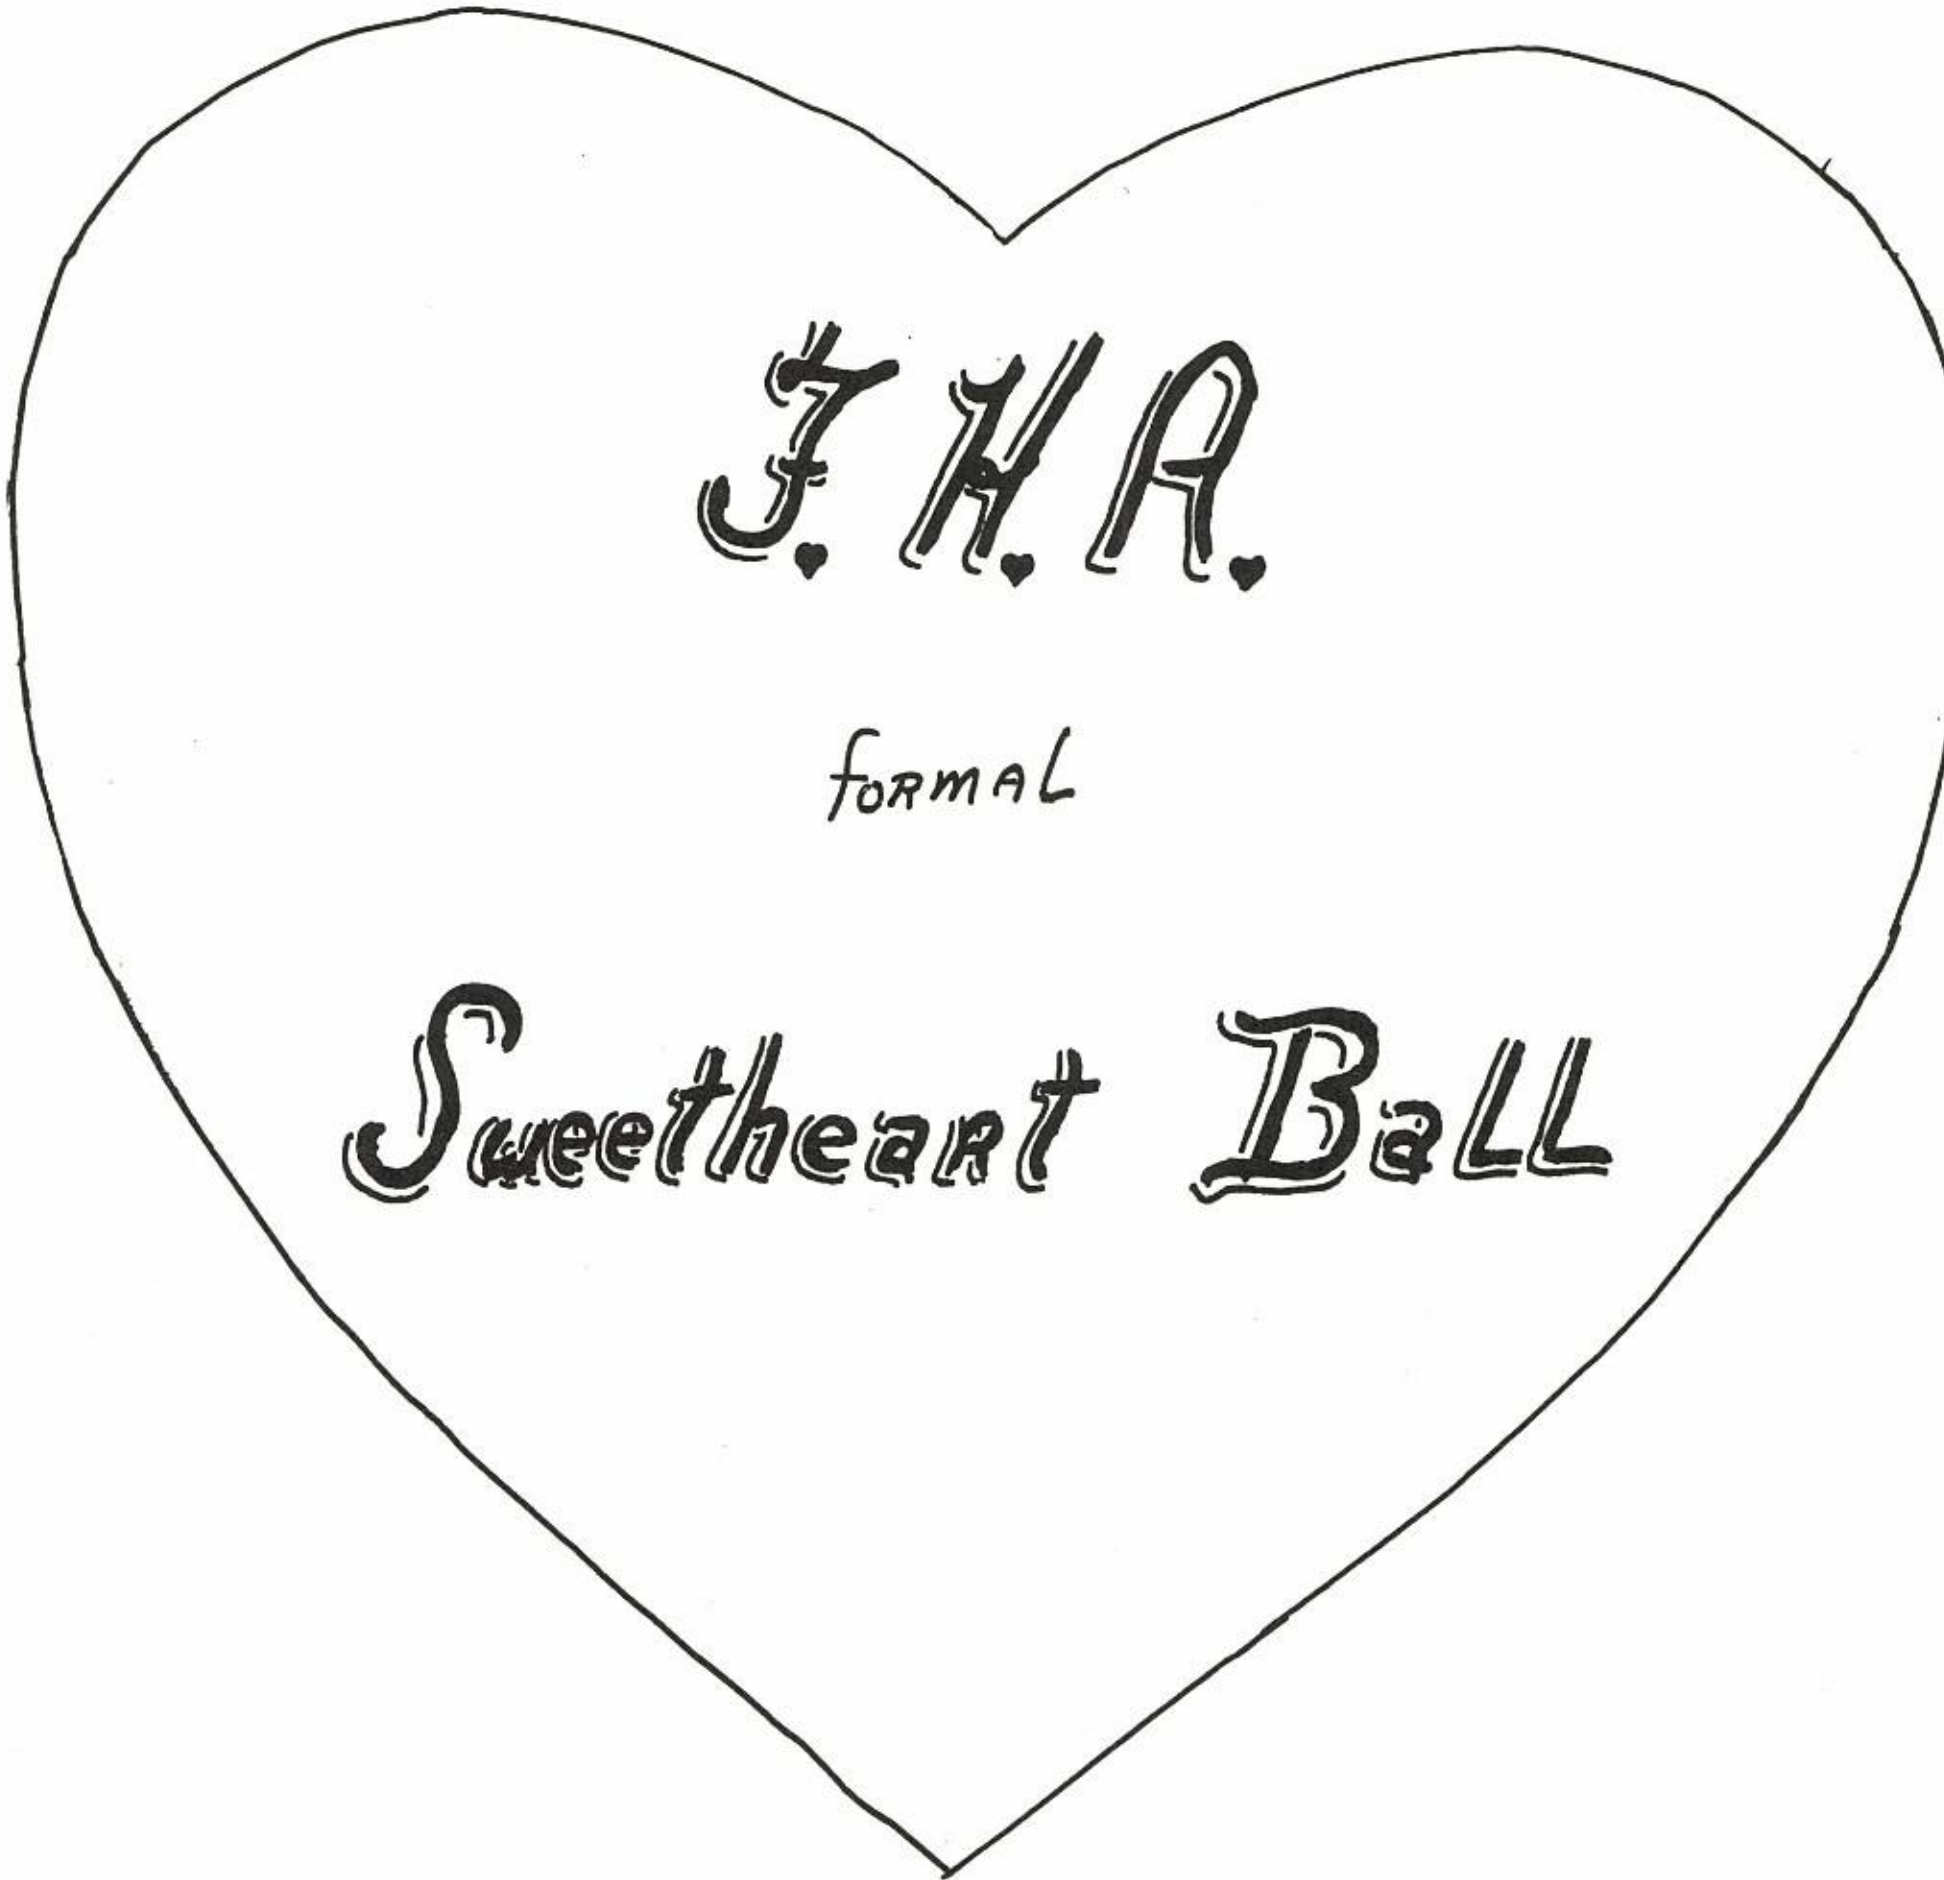

The theme of the Junior-Senior Prom was Showboat. Nearly 150 persons attended the Prom on May 5. The dinner was held at the Elementary School, where a Southern style dinner was served. Dinner music and stage entertainment were provided during the meal.

From there the guests proceeded to the Senior High School where they entered the beautifully decorated auditorium. They were seated on a simulated Southern mansion porch. Across the lawn, a Showboat could be seen in the distance, colorfully decorated and seating a dance band, to whose music the classes danced. Much action was employed on the Showboat, such as a moving paddle wheel and a sign in lights flashing the theme off and on at intervals.

Later the Prom moved to the Plymouth Drive-In where they were the guests of Mr. Ed Ramsey. A breakfast and organ music were provided after the movie and ended one of the most successful and well enjoyed Proms ever to be held at P.H.S.

MAYFLOWER LOG

The Mayflower LOG was organized under the auspices of the Finance Council of the Class of 1956 with Jack McQuate as its editor. The first edition "hit the stands" on November 30, 1956, after several weeks of extensive preparation.

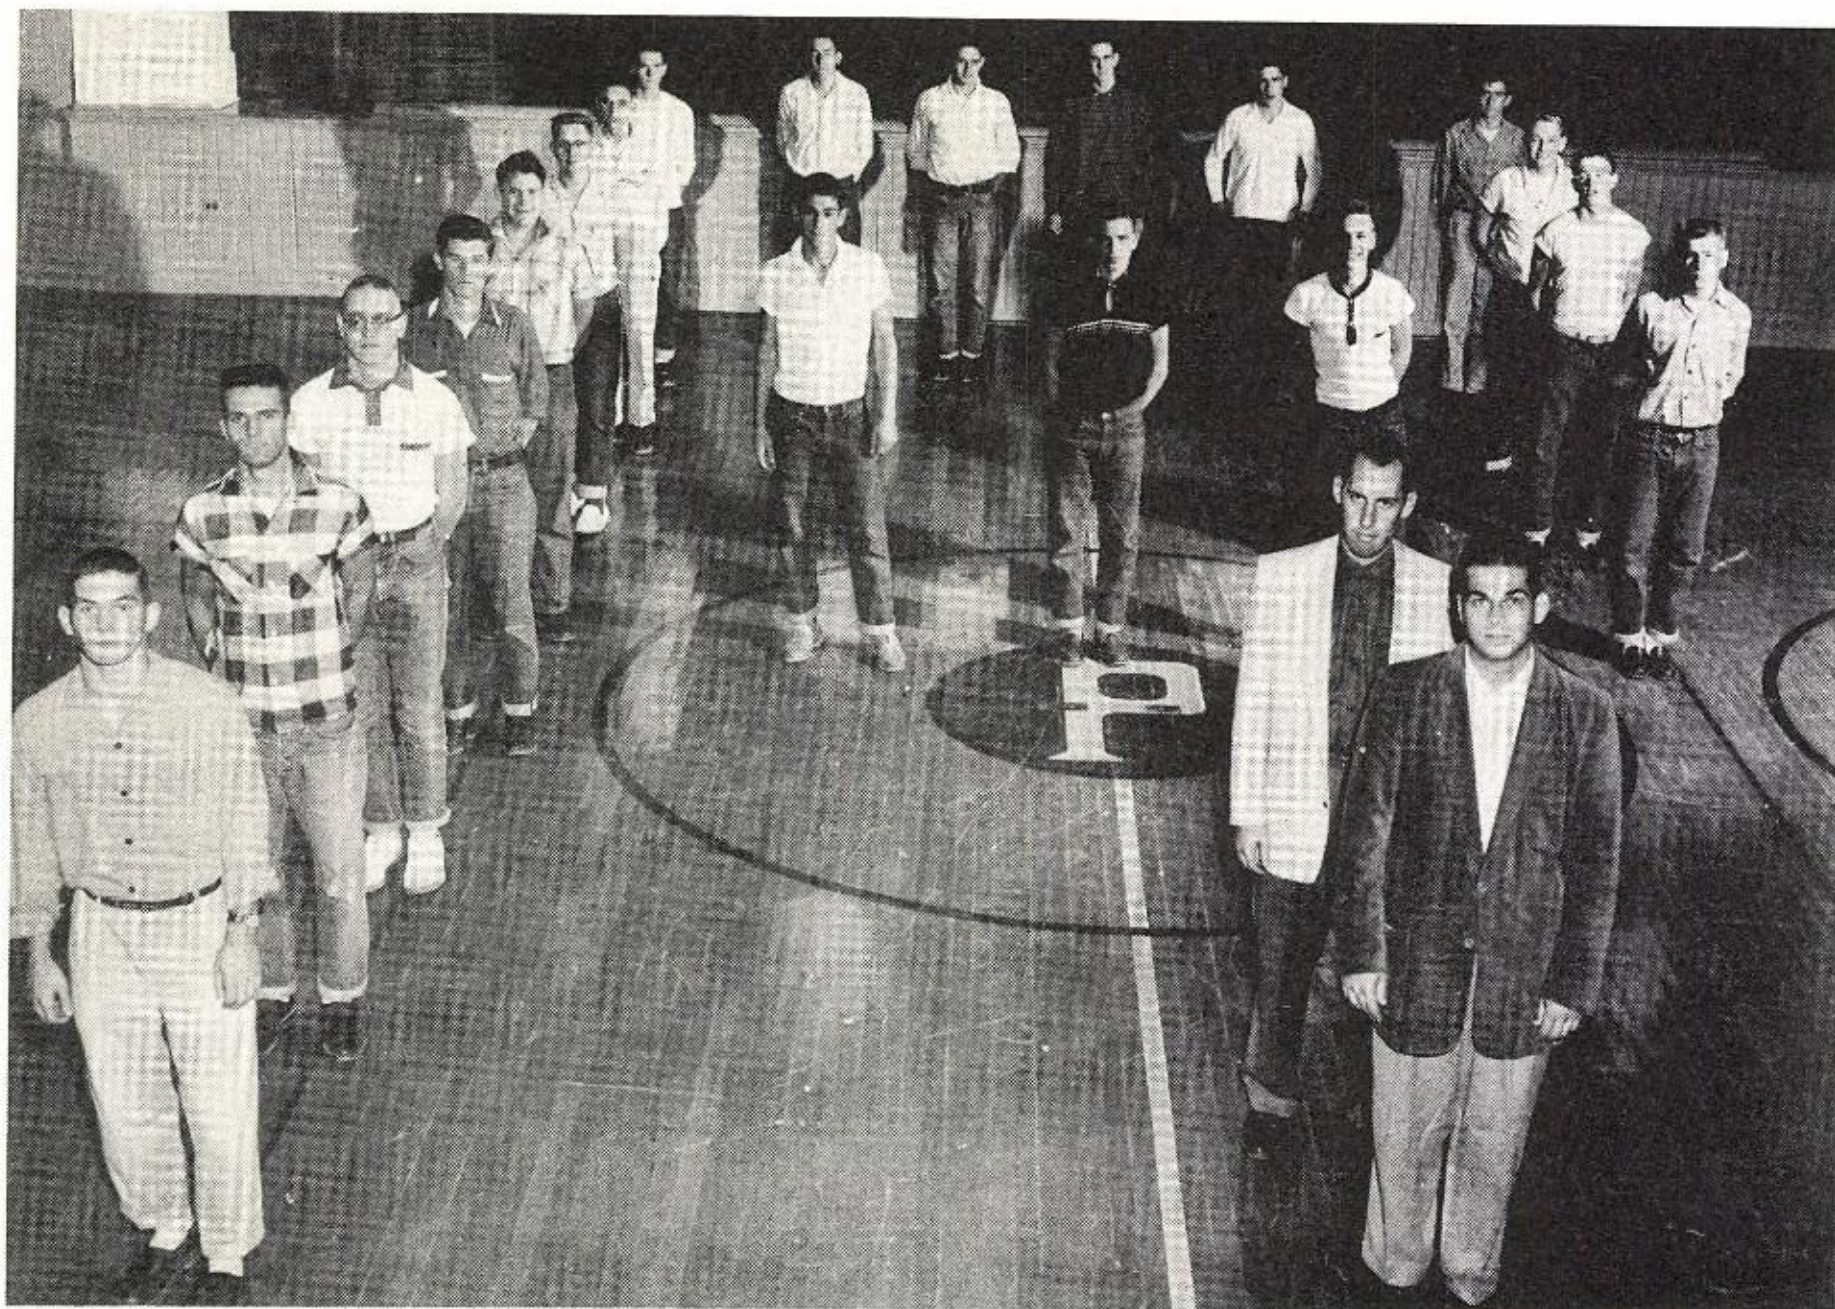

During the publishing year of 1955-56, the paper boasted such guest writers as Mayor Alfred Parkinson, Community Club President Thorr Woodworth, WATG Announcer Fred Manahan, the Reverend Robert Hall, Air Force Captain Dale D. Brumbach, and Police Chief Robert Miesser, and Coach Petit.

The Mayflower LOG staff was a constantly changing one, but regular workers included Gordon Riggle and Lenore Briggs, associate editors, who put out the paper in the editor's absence.

Eleanor Ousley, treasurer, Sandra Vogel, grade school editor, and regular staff members Rose Fenner, Pat Young, Nida Stroup, and Joanne Briggs. Regular contributors included Don Grabach, Jim Hunt, Ted Ross, Bette Carter, Mary Margaret Brinson, Peggy Burrer, Daher Huzovich, Ginger Burrer, Benny Root, Larry Keinath, and Floyd White.

At the end of the year, supplies and mailing lists were turned over to the class of 1957, who will continue publication through their last year at Plymouth High School.

Football Team

ACTION

The football team of 1955 has the best record of a 11 man football team ever to play on the Plymouth gridiron. With a little more team spirit they would have swept to an undefeated season. The "Pilgrims" rolled over Green Springs in the initial encounter of the season 29-12. In the next two games the team romped to consecutive victories over Maumee Valley and Seville by the impressive scores of 48-6 and 46-6 respectively. In the first road game of the year, Plymouth, hampered by bad weather and poor team spirit, was beaten by Butler 33-6. The boys rebounded from their defeat to shut out a strong Lodi team 19-0. In the big game of the year a stubborn Wakeman team held the "Pilgrims" to an 18-0 loss. Miss Carol Evans was the reigning queen. The final game of the season was won by a fired-up Plymouth eleven 31-12.

New records set by the team are as follows:

Most points scored in one season - 180

Most points scored in one game - 48

Highest individual scorer one season - 84

(Ed Taylor)

Most games won in one season - 5

Most yards gained in one game - 428

We congratulate Mr. Lewis Petit and Mr. Robert Martin on doing a splendid job of coaching this past season.

BASKETBALL - 1955 - 1956

Although not having a winning season, the 1955 - 56 basketball team showed good form and great promise. The team could manage only two victories, but lost a number of close games.

The two wins were over New Haven 88 - 61 and North Fairfield 83 - 67.

Next year's team should go far as all the starting five will return.

RESERVE BASKETBALL

The young Pilgrims have had a good year under the direction of Coach Bob Martin. They won nine of their eighteen games and most of the rest were close and hard fought.

We are looking forward to having them on the Varsity Squad next year.
